sembling Miss Cockrell had crossed the Long Bridge early Saturday morning, which prompted her employer to visit Jackson City in search of her.

To a reporter last night Mr. Sheppard stated that he had known the girl since she was a child, she having lived with him in 1882 until 1886. She is about twenty years of age, and is described as prepossessing in appearance, of about the medium height, with brown hair and blue eyes.

THE KOONTZ BURGLARY.

Another Evidence, Police Officials Say, of an Inadequate Force. Thomas L. Koontz, whose home at 913 burglars last night, while the family was away, and from whom about $250 worth of jewelry was stolen, visited Police Headquarters this morning and had a lengthy cenference with Inspector Boardman. No evelopments are expected in the case until the thieves attempt to dispose of the property as the work was very carefully done and no clues, it is said, have as yet

Police officials say that this is but another evidence of the inadequacy of the Washington force, which numerically is weaker than that of any other city of its size in the country, notwithstanding the immense Government properties to be protected. With over seventy men on the sick list and eighty-six on detailed duty the available force of men for patrol duty is extremely limited.

Real Estate Owners Angered by Water Department Employes.

Double Rent Demanded in Certain Cases-Masons Preparing for Their Annual Banquet-An Addition to the Linthieum Lecture Course-Funeral of the Late H. W. Blunt.

The Water Department's employes have exasperated some of the Georgetown real estate owners of late by turning off the water supply of certain houses, even though water rent receipts were produced. When an explanation was demanded of the officials the owners and tenants were informed that though the occupants of the premises immediately affected had paid theirs rents, neighbors who were without selves of the use of the supply in question and double rent was in consequence demanded by the District. In several instances water was cut off for days before the matter was adjusted. The Water Register insisted always upon a double rent, no matter how clearly it was shown the water had been taken without permission. No effort has been made by the District to recover from the non-paying consumer. The owner has been compelled to gray dearly for the accommodation extended or the privilege tolerated.

The annual banget of the George C. Whitney Lodge will be held on February 22. This is always the principal event of the year in Georgetown Masonic circles. The committee appointed by the lodge at its last meeting to perfect the arrangements intend to make the coming occasion a grand success. The menu will be elaborate and the speakers the best procur-

Mr. H. W. Blunt, for many years engaged in the cement business here, died on Saturday morning after a very short illness at his home, 3017 O Street. Mr. Blunt attended the banquet at the Far-mers and Mechanics' Bank last Tuesday and was comparatively well up to the day lay, interment being made in Maryland.

A new lecture is to be added to the e, already enjoyed by the students of Linthicum Institute here. Every other Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, for the remainder of the term, Mr. James H. Tayor, of the Washington bar, will lecture n commercial law. Ample opportunity vill be given the students to discuss in-formally the points touched upon in the ormany the points of the course are ceture. All the Linthicum lectures are ree to Georgetowners. The first lecture will be delivered day after tomorrow.

on January 25, Rev. Dr. Frank M. Bristol will deliver at the Dumbarton Avenue Church, his lecture, "Brains." Dr. Bristol was a close friend of the late Eugene Field, a member of that genial poet's Saints and Sinners Club, and was many times the subject of pleasant reference in his "Sharps and Flats" column. When the children's poet laureate died, Dr. Bristol conducted his funeral services. The lecturer's collection of rare literary works is one of the most valuable in the country.
